

SHORT CURRICULUM VITAE OF ELENI GKIKA

Current position

Mrs. Eleni Gkika is a member of Laboratory and Teaching staff of the Department of Business Administration, this position has been held since the founding of the University until today.

Degrees and Education

1. Doctorate (PhD) of the Department of Public Administration of Panteion University 2. Postgraduate Diploma in Business Finance at Brunel University of West London, United Kingdom 3. Degree in Economics from the Department of Economics at Athens University of Economics (formerly ASOEE).

Research interests

Her research interests focus in quantitative analysis in acceptance of ICT technologies and management change in companies and organizations. She is also interested in applying statistical analysis methods for decision making in management and in conducting research in organizational behavior.

Courses taught

She has taught the laboratory courses of Total Quality Management, Logical and Physical Design of Databases and Financial applications in PCs, as well as the theoretical courses Industrial Organization & Technological change, Managerial Economics, Management of Small and Medium Enterprise, Introduction to Business administration. She has also taught at Erasmus students the courses Research Methodology, Strategic Management, Social Psychology and Human Resources.

Brief description (without special references) of research-writing project and general data for its recognition

Her research work includes publications in prestigious journals, collective volumes and presentations at conferences.

Academic-professional experience and activity

Since 1998 she has been employed as a laboratory Associate at the predecessor Foundation. She currently teaches in the postgraduate program Wine and Beer Science in the Department of Wine, Vine and Beverage Sciences the course Entrepreneurship, Production Management and marketing. She has been a member of the organizing and scientific committees of many conferences. He is a member of scientific committees in scientific journals. She has previously served as a Financial Analyst in the Management Information Systems Division of Shell Hellas S.A. and as a Consultant at Citibank N.A. and Ford Credit Bank PLC. She has been an instructor for a number of years at Public Vocational Schools. He is a member of the Economic Chamber of Greece.