

SHORT CURRICULUM VITAE OF FAIDON KOMISOPOULOS

Current position

Komisopoulos Faidon, is Assistant Professor in the Department of Business Administration, University of West Attica.

Degrees and Educational Institutions

PhD at the department of Industrial Management and Technology, University of Piraeus (2011). MBA, Haute Ecole Groupe ICHEC - ISC Saint-Louis (2002). Degree in Computer Science, A-TEI of Athens (2009). Degree in Technology and Operations Systems, University of Piraeus (1995).

Research interests

His research interests are in innovation, project management, business strategy and organizations as well as resource management. His interests also focus on the potential of organizations and businesses for innovation.

About the PGC courses he has taught

He has taught the course Project Management in the Public Sector, part of the course Total Quality Management - Project Management in the Public Sector.

Brief description

Numerous publications in scientific journals and presentations at scientific conferences with emphasis on the innovation of companies and organizations.

Academic-professional experience and activity

He has taught at the University of Piraeus, the National and Kapodistrian University, at Harokopio University, at TEI of Athens and the University of West Attica, in undergraduate and postgraduate courses. He is also a collaborating member (SEP) at the Hellenic Open University and a collaborating professor and author of educational material at the National School of Public Administration and Local Government.

He has worked in a research center of international renown in the framework of research projects funded by the European Union, as a Project Manager and author of research proposals.

Finally, he has worked as an administrator in Greek and foreign companies and as a commercial director in a multinational telecommunications company.