

BRIEF CURRICULUM VITAE OF INSTRUCTOR ALEXANDROS SAHINIDIS

Today's position Alexandros Sahinidis is a Professor of the Department of Business Administration, a position he holds since the establishment of the University until today.

Degrees and Educational Institutions 1. Degree in Business Administration from Baruch College of New York. 2. MBA from Long Island University in New York 3. PhD from Piraeus University/ Rutgers University, New Jersey.

Research interests His research interests include issues of Business and Organization Management such as Employee Motivation, Corporate Social Responsibility, Leadership, Human Resources Management, Organizational Change, Organizational Culture, etc. About the MSc courses he has taught He has taught Management Science courses corresponding to the above fields and other fields. In the MSc he teaches the course Organizational Behavior and Ethics.

Brief description of research-writing work and general information for its recognition In the above fields of interest, his extensive writing and research work, consisting of numerous articles in prestigious foreign scientific journals, publications in collective volumes and presentations in international conferences, is widely recognized (with more than 1100 citations).

Academic-professional experience and activity He has been a permanent Professor of various ranks since 2009, when he was hired as an assistant professor at the Technological Educational Institute of Athens. He taught for many years at the School of Public Administration and participated as a lecturer in numerous seminars of INEP. He is the Director of the Department of Business Administration (2019- 2021) He has taught in many Postgraduate Programs since 2007. He is the Director of an established Research Laboratory. He has also taught abroad under the Erasmus programme, in which he has been actively involved since 2009 as a lecturer. He is a member of the editorial and scientific committees of a significant number of scientific journals. He has been a member of the organizing and scientific committees of many conferences and has conducted sessions of important international conferences.